The second ProductCamp Sydney is almost here!

Please join other Product Managers and Product Marketers on June 4th for a full Saturday of discussions, talks, panels, networking, fun, food, and surprises.

What is ProductCamp?

ProductCamp Sydney is a collaborative, user-organised professional conference that focuses on Product Management and Marketing topics.

At ProductCamp Sydney everyone participates in some manner: presenting, leading a discussion, showcasing a best practice, or just sharing their experiences.

Others help with logistics, securing sponsorships, organising sessions, setting up or cleaning up. This is a self-organising collaborative event that is designed to be fun, rewarding and a unique experience.

ProductCamp Sydney is a great opportunity for participants to learn from, teach to, and network with professionals involved in the Product Management, Marketing, and Development processes from all industries around Australia.
